A GUIDE TO OTHER WORKFORCE ROLES FOR REGISTERED BODIES AND EMPLOYERS

This will help you identify whether the position you are recruiting for falls into the other workforce when completing the 'Position Applied For' field on a DBS application form and where access to a children's and adults' barred list check is available. These are roles which don't specifically relate to working with children and/or adults.

It is important to make sure that the law allows a DBS application to be submitted. As an employer or regulator, but also as a registered body, you have a legal responsibility for making sure you can submit applications and must know the legislation that supports each application in case we need further clarification. An individual cannot request a standard or enhanced level DBS check for themselves and so as a registered body you must not submit applications from individuals where there is no employer to make the suitability decision.

Disclaimer: This is not legal advice. If you need help with making sure you are complying with the law, you should speak to a legal advisor.

Standard and enhanced DBS checks can only be undertaken if the specific role, or the specific activities carried out within the role, are included in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act (ROA) 1974 (Exceptions) Order 1975 (access to standard DBS certificates), and are also covered by the Police Act 1997 or Police Act 1997 (Criminal Records) regulations (access to enhanced DBS certificates). These laws only provide eligibility for DBS checks, they do not make them a requirement.

Decisions on when and whether to undertake a DBS check are for the relevant employer or regulator to make based on what the law allows. It is not discretionary as such, but a matter of considering the nature of the activities undertaken and if they are eligible for DBS checks. DBS provides an electronic eligibility tool which can help you with this.
